Protein powder powered by hemp

Ruth's Hemp Foods has launched three protein powder blends, which contain no genetically modified organisms, hydrogenated or trans fats, refined sugars, or artificial preservatives or colours. Hemp Protein Power is derived from live, certified-organic hemp seed and contains 50 per cent protein. Hemp & Sprouted Flax contains sprouted flax, known for its omega-3s, high-lignan fibre, and active enzymes due to sprouting. Hemp Protein and Sprouted Flax with Maca adds 5000mg per serving of the Peruvian root vegetable maca, known as an Incan superfood for its ability to help maintain hormonal balance and enhance libido. The blends are also sold in bulk, in both 5lb and 25lb pails and 250lb drums, and formulate well in juice bars. The company also sells its organic shelled hemp seed, SoftHemp, in bulk quantities, as well as its conventionally grown hemp oil.
